Such wrought iron axle wagons as have been to be seen in this and other markets at $100, they now offer at $85—those with Cast axles at the lowest possible rates, and all other work in proportion.

They are determined not to be undersold or outdone in either price or workmanship, by any other workmen in Northern Indiana, nor by work manufactured at Chicago or elsewhere and brought here for sale. They are always on the hill, and ready to witness and be responsible for the durability of their work; but wagons brought here from a distance and sold, if they do not prove good, the maker has your money, and places his thumb and finger to his nose, and you may wish to be a better wagon.

They now have a superior lot of seasoned timber selected by themselves, which they expect to make up for their customers, and be responsible for its doing good service.
